Benny Bear & the Sleepy Star

A DreamWings sample story

One quiet evening, Benny Bear noticed a tiny star blinking softly above the forest.

“Why are you shining so faintly?” Benny asked. The star whispered, “I think everyone has forgotten me.”

Benny climbed the hill with his warmest blanket. He sat beneath the sky and told the star stories about brave rabbits, kind foxes, and friends who always came back.

Little by little, the star glowed brighter. “You reminded me that even a small light can make the night beautiful,” it said.

From that night on, Benny and the star met every evening. And whenever someone felt lonely, their light shone a little warmer.

Goodnight, little dreamer. May your dreams be bright.
